

James C. McMichael Jr. Institute Trial Advocacy Lunch and Learn Series

The James C. McMichael Jr. Institute is proud to present the second annual Trial Advocacy Lunch & Learn Series — an educational program honoring the enduring legacy of James C. McMichael Jr., a respected legal leader, mentor and advocate for professional excellence.

Sponsored by retired Louisiana Supreme Court Justice Scott Crichton, this year's series will feature timely and relevant discussions designed to support both emerging and experienced members of the legal community.

Session I — July 17

"Dominating Depositions"

Presented by Patrick R. Jackson and James A. Mijalis

Shreveport Bar Center, 625 Texas Street, Shreveport, LA

Noon Hour Program

One Hour CLE Credit

Lunch Included

The Institute is proud to offer FREE tuition to law students and attorneys licensed five years or less in any state, reinforcing its commitment to mentorship, accessibility and the professional growth of young lawyers.

Whether you are beginning your legal career or looking to sharpen your advocacy skills, the McMichael Institute Lunch & Learn Series offers an outstanding opportunity to learn from respected legal professionals, engage in meaningful discussion and connect with colleagues in the legal community.
